Professional

“I value the opportunity to work as a town planner, creating liveable communities and viable futures. I enjoy assisting both the development and government sectors and supporting my clients with quality planning advice and personal service.”

I have been a qualified practicing planner since 1992 and am very experienced in both public and private sector planning work, including the lodgement and assessment of Development Applications, Rezoning Proposals and Plan Development.

I hold significant experience in development assessment and development application preparation and as an expert planning witness in NSW Land and Environment Court Appeals.

I hold both a Degree and in Urban and Regional Planning and a Post Graduate Diploma in Environmental and Local Government Law.

Together with my wife Michelle, I established ALL ABOUT PLANNING with a base in Port Macquarie, NSW in 2003. We work in all aspects of planning, all over Australia.

Michelle and I have developed a reputation as a highly experienced boutique planning consultancy of integrity and quality. The vast majority of our work is obtained through personnel recommendation of our company by existing clients to others.

Prior to setting up AAP, I worked in Sydney as a Town Planner in a variety of senior planning positions for Local Governments, including at Canada Bay & Leichhardt. At Bankstown Council I was key to the establishment of the first viable self directed Town Planning business unit in NSW.

I am a Certified Practising Planner through the Planning Institute of Australia.
